

We are not hiring. We are looking for a founder.

One vertical. A hundred districts. If what you want is a job, stop reading here.

Crashfree India · A Cars24 Commitment · September 2026

SATARK is our AI enforcement platform for traffic police: ANPR cameras check every passing vehicle against live government records and tell officers whom to stop, in seconds. It works — the numbers below are real, and on 4 August 2026 the Supreme Court directed the whole country to build the mechanism we already run. What it does not have is the person who takes it from 3 cities to the 100 districts where India loses the most of its 1.7 lakh road deaths a year — by December 2027.

That person will not join this vertical. That person will set it up.

WHAT YOU WILL ACTUALLY DO

- Sit across police commissioners, transport secretaries and ministries. Convince them. Sign them. Stay until officers are stopping vehicles.
- Write the expansion playbook from zero — which districts, in what order, signed how. Your pipeline, your targets, your map of India.
- Work directly with Crashfree India's leadership and Cars24's founders. Gurugram base, heavy travel, in seat by mid-October.

WHAT YOU NEED TO BRING

- You have run something of your own — a startup, a campaign, an organisation. Failed ones count; failure teaches patience.
- Officials can tell in minutes whether the person across the table cares about road deaths or is closing a sale. You have to be believed.
- You read court orders and police procedure unprompted, and follow up for months without being reminded.
- Two speeds, both fine: Rajkot signed in nine days; Pune took five months.

WHAT YOU WILL GET

- A founder's canvas on a founder-sized problem, with a Supreme Court order mandating nationally what you will be scaling.
- Engineering, installation and funding already behind you — Cars24 backs this. You bring the districts.
- No title theatre, no plan handed to you on Monday. Your work measured in lives, not dashboards.

Your CV — and a 4–5 min video: a problem you're passionate about that India ignores. Convince me. Data, not polish.
